This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFATORY NOTICE.

ıe Young Men's Mercantile Library Association of Cincinnati was led in April, 1835, by a noble band of young men, who held their meeting in an Engine-house, on Fourth, between Main and Walnut ts. Their names deserve to be printed in letters of gold: L. Lard-
P. Outcalt, W. Parry, J. L. Brown, W. H. Harrison, Edward Dawson, les G. Springer, D. T. Piatt, J. H. Raymond, John W. Ellis, M. Mur-lames Wiles, J. D. Thorpe, W. N. Green, J. R. Mavor, A. M. Bryson,
. Kimberly, J. C. Hill, I. D. Wheeler, J. A. Lewis, S. A. Spencer, John veed, A. M. Paxton, W. R. Smith, R. G. Mitchell, E. Lawrence, Pal-Holland, William Wells, Moses Ranney, G. M. Ayres, J. H. Merrier, R. Brown, Wm. Watts, C. C. Sackett, D. G. Lockwood, Thomas iwether, John C. Macy, Alfred Wood, D. K. Este, Peter Brown, y Shaw, Geo. Hough, Leonard Avery, E. Parry, and E. Carter; in ›rty-five. Most of these men have passed away from earth, or have he city. For the good work they performed on that day, they are ed to the profound respect and gratitude of their successors.

irty-four years have elapsed since this Institution was ushered into ›nce. It is still green and flourishing, despite the many difficulties liscouragements that have presented themselves during periods of ess panics, mercantile dullness, and internecine war.

ıe, its membership is not what it should be, nor what it could be, if roper spirit were manifested by the young men of to-day, but its ers are respectable, and its influence salutary.

s not our purpose to enter into an extended or minute history of our iation. We consider it an Institution of the Present, and not of the —a perennial fountain of usefulness and value to those who are
g to drink of its ample stores of knowledge and intellectual delights.

› present Directory, seeing the absolute necessity of a new Catalogue
› volumes now on the shelves of the Library, unanimously resolved ve such an one as would reflect credit on those who should prepare d at the same time give satisfaction to the generous patrons of the Institution. They trust this double task has been performed, and confidently present this Catalogue to their patrons as a competent and comprehensive guide to the treasures contained in the alcoves of the Library.

In preparing and publishing the Catalogue, a large expenditure of money has been incurred, depleting the treasury to that extent. It is confidently expected that the friends of the Association will step forward, and, to a degree, reimburse the outlay, by subscribing for one or more copies.

In addition to the Library proper, it will be recollected that we have a Reading Room well furnished with the leading newspapers and magazines from all parts of the world; thus keeping the members posted in the political, mercantile and literary news of the day. The Library is in possession of a large collection of rare old Pamphlets (not catalogued,) gathered by the different Boards of Directors in the past thirty years.

The Young Men's Mercantile Library has now reached a point in its history when it requires the hearty co-operation of the Young Merchants of the city. Its membership should be materially increased, and must be, if it is to retain its present solid, independent position.

The Library now contains over 30,000 volumes, many of them very valuable, out of print, and impossible to duplicate. This valuable collection should be placed in a solid, fire-proof building, in order that it may surely be handed down to those who must succeed us in its management and enjoyment.

This brief Preface cannot be closed without returning the thanks of the Board of Directors and officers of the Library to their chief Librarian, Major M. Hazen White, for the faithful and competent manner in which he has prepared the Catalogue. It has been the work of months, and has required the most careful and laborious supervision, in order that it should be made a true record of the Library.

With the belief that a needed duty has been fully performed, our Catalogue is placed before the patrons of the Library for their comfort and guidance.

How true it is that "we know not what a day or an hour may bring forth!" While congratulating ourselves on having accomplished a long and tedious duty, in completing and laying before our Patrons a comprehensive Catalogue of the Library, the dread clangor of the fire-alarm-bells rang out the intelligence THAT THE LIBRARY BUILDING WAS ON FIRE! Our brave Fire Department at once gave their whole attention to its suppression, but hours elapsed before the fierce flames were wholly quenched. On an examination, it was found that much injury had been done to the Library. Many of its books were badly damaged by water, but none of them wholly destroyed. The Library Rooms were so badly damaged, as to render them untenable, making it a necessity for the Association to remove its books and property of all kinds to another building.

The Board of Directors, being determined to keep the Library alive in some shape, until their old quarters could be resumed, had the books stored in a safe place, and opened the Reading-Room branch at 137 and 139 Race street, between Third and Fourth streets.

This dire calamity happened on the afternoon of Tuesday, October 21st, 1869.

CONSTITUTION.

We, the subscribers, young men of the City of Cincinnati, being desirous of adopting efficient means to extend our information upon mercantile and other subjects of general utility, have associated ourselves for the purpose of establishing a Library and Reading Room, and for our government have adopted the following Constitution:

ARTICLE I.

The name and style of this Association shall be the "The Young Men's Mercantile Library Association of the City of Cincinnati."

ARTICLE II.

Sec. 1. The officers of the Association shall be a President, Vice-President, Corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary, Treasurer and Five Directors, who, together shall constitute a Board of Directors, and shall be elected annually—the President, Vice-President, Secretaries and Treasurer, by separate ballots, the Directors by general ticket: a majority of the whole votes given being necessary to a choice.

Sec. 2. The president shall preside at meetings of the Association; call such extra meetings as the Board of Directors shall deem expedient; shall have a vote in all elections, and give the casting vote when there shall be an equal division among the members.

Sec. 3. The Vice-President shall preside in the absence of the President, and in general perform the duties of that office.

Sec. 4. The Recording Secretary shall keep an accurate record of the business of the Association. The Corresponding Secretary, under the superintendence of the Board of Directors, shall conduct its correspondence.

Sec. 5. The Treasurer shall receive all dues and donations in money; pay all drafts on him when signed by the President; keep a regular account of the financial concerns of the Association—an abstract of which, accompanied by satisfactory vouchers, he shall exhibit at each annual meeting, and at the monthly meetings of the Board of Directors, and oftener if required; and for the faithful discharge of these trusts, he shall give security in the sum of five hundred dollars.

Sec. 6. The Board of Directors shall have power to appropriate funds, enact By-Laws, and generally conduct the affairs of the Association; shall meet at least once in each month for the transaction of business; shall report at each quarterly meeting of the Association, their proceedings for the past quarter, and the state of the concerns of the Association; and in case any vacancy shall occur in the Board, shall immediately notify the Association, and appoint an evening for an election to fill such vacancy.

Sec. 7. The Board of Directors shall appoint a Librarian, whose duty it shall be to attend at the Library on each day of the week, (Sundays excepted,) who shall keep a register of all books, magazines, maps, charts, papers, and all other property in his care, belonging to the Association; arrange them in proper order, make a record thereof, with the names of the donors, and keep an accurate account of all books delivered to the members; and to be otherwise governed by the Board of Directors.

ARTICLE III.

Each member, on subscribing to the Constitution, shall pay the sum of five dollars annually in advance, so long as he shall continue a member.

ARTICLE IV.

Any young man engaged in mercantile pursuits, if approved by a majority of the Directors, may become a member on complying with the provisions of this Constitution.

ARTICLE V.

Any person not eligible for regular membership in this Associotion, may become entitled to the privileges of an honorary member on being approved by a majority of the Board of Directors, subscribing to the Constitution, and paying the sum of five dollars per year, in advance, so long as he shall continue a member, but shall not be entitled to vote or act in any official capacity.

ARTICLE VI.

Any person may become a member for life by paying the sum of fifty dollars.

ARTICLE VII.

Any person approved by a majority of the Board of Directors may become entitled to a membership in perpetuity, on payment of one hundred dollars, and may transfer such membership at pleasure on the books of the Assocaition, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors: Provided, however, that any one, being "a life member," may become a member in perpetuity under this clause, on the payment of fifty dollars.

ARTICLE VIII.

There shall be an annual meeting of the Association on the first Tuesday in January, for the election of officers for the ensuing year; for receiving reports from the Board of Directors, and, quarterly thereafter, for the transaction of such other business as may be presented.

ARTICLE IX.

If the President, Vice-President, Secretaries, Treasurer or Directors, in their several official capacities, shall neglect the performance of their duties, or shall not administer the laws of the Association efficiently or equitably on written complaint of fifteen members, a meeting shall be called, and a committee appointed, consisting of two members and one director, who shall censure, remove from office, or fully exonerate the accused, as the circumstances of the case may warrant.

ARTICLE X.

One month previous to the annual meeting, the Board of Directors shall call a meeting of the Association, for the purpose of appointing a committee of seven members, by ballot to nominate suitable officers for the coming year; such nomination to be published in the daily papers at least six times previous to the meeting.

ARTICLE XI.

All moneys received into the treasury of the Association, arising from life memberships, perpetual memberships and bequests, (except such bequests as may be made for specific purposes,) shall be invested to form a fund for the benefit of the Association; and no part of the principal of such fund shall be, at any time, used for any other purpose than investment; but the income arising from such invested fund, when received, shall be paid into the treasury of the Association, and may be used as any other funds.

ARTICLE XII.

There shall be no alteration in this Constitution, unless the same shall have been proposed to the Board of Directors one month previous to the quarterly meeting and then approved by three-fourths of the members present.

BY-LAWS.

SECTION 1. The Library and Reading-Room shall be open every day from 9 o'clock, A. M., until 10 o'clock, P. M.—Sundays, the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas and New-Year excepted.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the Librarian to keep a complete and exact catalogue of books belonging to the Library, together with a duplicate of the same, which shall be open at all times to the examination of the members. He shall number each book, assign its place in the Library, and arrange the whole in proper order. He shall likewise keep such record of maps, charts, and other property of the Association, as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Directors.

SEC. 4. He shall deliver, on the application, or to the written order of any member whose name has been registered and dues paid, one book, if it be a folio, quarto or octavo; and one book, or set of books not exceeding three volumes, if it be a duodecimo, or of smaller size.

SEC. 5. He shall carefully enter in a book to be kept for that purpose, the name of the member to whom a book or books have been delivered; the date of taking from, and returning to, the Library, together with a full record of such fines or penalties as may have been incurred thereon.

SEC. 6. He shall collect from members, for the use of the Association, all fines and forfeitures incurred, regularly accounting for the same to the Treasurer; and shall report to the Board of Directors the name of such member or members as may refuse to pay their fines and forfeitures, lose or damage any book or set of books, write in or otherwise deface the same, or in any other way willfully violate the Library or Reading-Room regulations.

SEC. 7. He shall have the supervision and general superintendence of the Library and Reading-Room; shall carefully examine returned books, and replace them upon the Library shelves; shall see that newspapers are promptly filed, and that magazines, etc., are regularly placed on the Reading-Room tables, and shall at all times enforce the rules relative to the circulation of books, and maintain quiet and good order in the rooms of the Association. He shall likewise perform such other duties appertaining to his office, as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Directors.

It shall be, additionally, the duty of the Librarian, under the immediate supervision of the Treasurer, to keep the record book of subscription and annual dues of members; to render bills of the same, and generally to take charge of such other books and accounts as may from time to time be assigned him.

SEC. 9. The Assistant Librarian shall give security, in the sum of three hundred dollars, for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office, and will hold the same at the pleasure of the Board of Directors.

SEC. 10. It shall be the duty of the Assistant Librarian to coöperate with and relieve the Librarian; to be governed in every particular by the like rules, assuming, in the absence of that officer, the general duties of the post.

SEC. 11. It shall be, additionally, the duty of the Assistant Librarian, under the immediate supervision of the Treasurer, to collect the subscriptions and other annual dues of members, together with such other collections as may be especially assigned him. He shall likewise perform such other duties, appertaining to his office, as may from time to time be prescribed by the Board of Directors.

SEC. 12. It shall be the duty of one or more Assistants, under the immediate supervision of the Librarian, who, as Superintendent, will apportion their respective duties, to attend especially to the receiving and giving out of books, carefully observing the Library regulations for the same; to give special attention to the filing of newspapers, the proper distribution of magazines, etc.; to act as messengers when required in that capacity; to keep or assist in keeping the rooms of the Association clean, well ventilated and in good order, taking especial care that furniture, maps, globes, pictures, statuary, etc., be neither defaced nor injured; and generally that the Library and Reading-Room be made agreeable and attractive for the convenience and resort of members. The Librarian and his Assistants shall report themselves for duty at a quarter before 8 o'clock, that the papers, magazines, etc., may be properly distributed before the hour of the opening of the Reading-Room. They shall be allowed, each, one and a half hours between the hours of 12 and 3 o'clock; their respective hours being arranged by the Librarian. They shall each be allowed, when desired, every alternate evening. The Librarian who remains on duty shall be allowed one and a half hours between 5½ and 7 o'clock, and the other will be required to continue in the discharge of his duties till 7 o'clock. They shall not absent themselves from the Library, except in the discharge of some of their duties, at other than the hours specified above, except upon permission of the President or Chairman of the Library Committee.

SEC. 13. Each member of the Association, duly entitled to the use of the Library, may withdraw a book or set of books, and retain the same two weeks from the date of delivery. New books; catalogued within the current year, shall not be renewed, but must, at the expiration of two weeks, be returned to the Library; other books of circulation may, on application to the Librarian, be renewed for the like term of two weeks; provided, that not more than two separate renewals of the same book, or set of books, be allowed without special permission of the Board of Directors. No book or set of books shall, in any case, be reserved by the Librarian for either a member or director; nor shall books be transferred from one name to another.

SEC. 14. Any member who shall retain a book, or set of books, longer than two weeks, as above limited, shall forfeit and pay to the Librarian, for the use of the Association, two cents for each day over the time the book or set of books shall have been so detained in his possession; and such fines shall, in all cases, be fully exacted without reference to the value of the books thus detained; provided, that this regulation shall not be deemed to interfere with any regulations regarding books of reference.

SEC. 15. If any member lose, deface or injure a book or set of books, he shall make the same good to the Librarian; and if any book lost, defaced or injured, be one of a set, he shall either replace the set or pay the full value of the same to the Treasurer, and may thereupon receive the remaining volumes as his property.

SEC. 16. Books can not be examined on the shelves, but each member shall be privileged to use any book belonging to the Library, in the Reading-Room of the Association, (of which use the Librarian shall at the time keep a minute), yet such book, if it be one of circulation, must be relinquished to any member withdrawing the same from the Library.

SEC. 17. Such books, maps, charts, etc., as have been or may from time to time be donated, with the intention or request that they be not taken from the Library, shall, in no case, be loaned therefrom. Books which are specially valued for their plates, for rarity or antiquity, or for other reasons, may from time to time be designated as books of reference, and, as such, may be restricted from circulation, but can at all times be freely consulted at the Library or in the Reading-Room. Books so restricted, shall be taken from the Library only by special permission of the Library Committee.

SEC. 18. Resignation of membership must be made in writing, either to the Treasurer or Board of Directors, and can be accepted only after the payment of all dues, forfeitures and arrearages. Any member wishing to withdraw from the Association, must comply with these requirements, or he will be considered and charged as continuing his membership.

SEC. 19. The privileges of the Association will be withdrawn from any member who shall refuse to pay fines and forfeitures incurred, or who shall be known wilfully to violate any of the preceding regulations, and such person shall be ineligible for reëlection until full satisfaction shall have been made of all legal claims; and that this regulation may be effective, it shall be the duty of the Librarian to keep a record of those persons thus made ineligible, and the reasons therefor. The Board of Directors will from time to time alter, amend or establish such additional By-Laws as may be necessary and proper for the safety of the Library and the due administration of the affairs of the Association.

REGULATIONS OF THE READING-ROOM.

RULE 1. No conversation shall be allowed otherwise than in a whisper within the Reading-Room.
